

Midway Hot springs get new look

The Springs of St. Moritz coming to hot pots

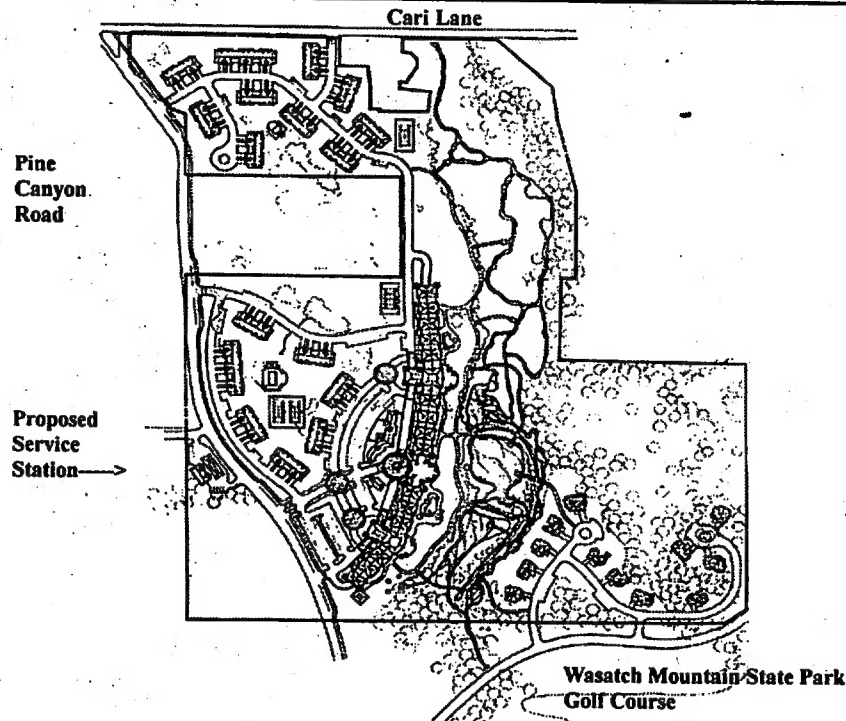

BY KARI GIBB
BUSINESS MANAGER

MIDWAY - Life at the Midway hot pots will be taking on a new look soon. As with many of the local area's attractions, the hot pots are slotted to undergo a developmental growth. The Springs of St. Moritz is a project that covers 77.3 acres and has development plans for 12 single family units, 72 condominium units, a 32 unit lodge and a 47 unit lodge with a total of 163 residential units.

Retail shops will have a large footprint in the planned project with 20,000 square feet. The lodges will share retail space in the area of 14,000 square feet and convention and restaurant will split 18,000 square feet between the two entities.

While the total area of development is over 77 acres, over 54 acres are set aside as open space bringing the total green space to just over 61 acres for the project.

Right at Home at His & Hairs

Looking for Some Pampering?

BY JEAN CROASMUN
LIFESTYLES EDITOR

Will Ford says she doesn't know where she'd be today if it weren't for His and Hairs.

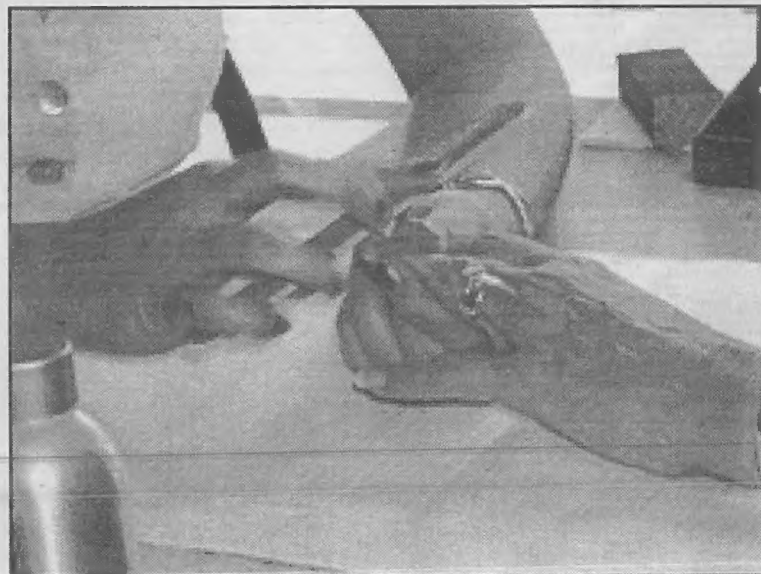

works on nails; Gina Tuttle and Sandra Leathan are the shop's aestheticians, while Nancy Glazier and Paula Provost work with massage therapy.

While Gardner likes things the way they

and her busi-
services and ne, presently
l, Redken and
oducts.

people don't s Gardner of vices such as
s have taken
ore people in and' Hairs are

nday through
ents available.
vest of Main
For appoint-

Fast hands give fine care at His & Hairs.

